HIGH SCHOOL WRITING WITH LITERATURE: more traditional method of writing about literature from specific time periods and cultures. Emphasis on literary analysis and essay writing.

LITERATURE WITH WRITING: classical method, focusing on world literature related to historical time periods. Emphasis on literary analysis and discussion. Writing skills are used, but not directly taught. Shorter, weekly assignments and comprehension study guides, fewer essays.

HIGH SCHOOL WRITING: Specific focus is on writing skills across a variety of purposes. Some grammar and a literature component included.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS—Two years of writing intensive instruction—English credits include—writing and literature and they both do not need to be taken every year.
